FIVE PERISH IN FLAMES.

Father, Mother and Three Children Lose Their Lives.

YONKERS, N. Y., December 21.—In an early morning fire to-day which completely destroyed the five-story frame building at the corner of Glover and Wakefield Avenues, Thomas Frederick, aged forty-one, his vife and three children, were burned to death. The members of the brederick family, who lived on the second floor, were asleep at the time the dames were discovered.

The fire broke out in a bakeshop on the ground floor. The proprietor, Andrew Wilkins, on returning from a trip over his early morning route, saw smoke and flames gushing from one of the windows. There is a tire alarm box across the street, and to this Wilkins ran and turned in an alarm. Before the arrival of the engines several men who were on their way to work darted into the building and aroused four of the families. They were unable, however, to awaken the Frederick family, and, the flames having spread with great rapidity. (hey were compelled to return to the street, and made their way to safety by clambering down the rear fire escape. After the flames had been subducd, Fire Chief Mulcahey and Koreman John Riley forced their way through the debris to the second floor. They found the body of Frederick lying by the kitchen door, burned to a crisp. Mis. Frederick's body was found on the floor near her bed. The three children, and thomas, three years old—who slept in a bedroom adjoining their mother's room, would have been saved had they run to the fire escape. Instead, they sought to aid their mother, and were soon overpowered by smoke. Their deaths were due to suifocation, the bodies being but slightly burned. The damage was $25,000.

and Neighbors' Advice.

"Three years ago small pimples appeared on both of my lower limbs. I scratched them until the blood would flow as from a wound. The itching would be more severe towards evening and at bed time. I went to one of the best doctors in my vicinity who gave me a prescription. This would stop the itching for a day or so but afterwards it would be still worse. After using several dollars worth of this salve I tried several other remedies but to no avail. The neighbors advised using sulphur and lard but it was all fruitless.

"A few months afterwards I saw an advertisement in a newspaper of the Cuticura Remedies. I at once sent off for some Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Reasolvent Pills, but thinking they would be no better than the other remedies. But to my surprise after the first order was used the scales disappeared and the Itching ceased and after using another order of the Cuticura Remedies I was completely cured, after suffering for nearly two years. I shall be glad to write to any one who may be interested in my cure. Carl Haldeman, Marshall, Wis., October 25, 1908."

CROWDS IN BRUSSELS

People From Many Poluis Arrive Propic From Many Poluis Arrive to Attend Funeral of King.

BRUSSELS, December 21.—Throngs of people are arriving here from all points of Heigium and points outside to attend the funeral of the late King Leopold and the accession of Albert, which are expected to be imposing spectacles. The demand for cards of admission to the church and Parliament exceeds the Bupply by many thousands, while a small army of foreign newspaper representatives are vainly clamoring for journalistic privileges.

The foreign princes, missions and delegations have reached here.

Prince Albert personally met the Duke of Connaught, Prince Henry of Prussia and Prince Ferdinand of Roumana.

beside the coffin of her father.

There is a rumor to-night that the stock company to which the King turned over most of his private property is about to dissolve, on the ground that its organization was fillegal. It is authoritatively stated, however, that this rumor is unfounded, and that the company will continue to exist, and will contest to the end the suits brought by Princess Louise and Princess Stephanie.

William Francis Carne. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] ALEXANDRIA. VA., December 21.— William Francis Carne, a widely known resident and dean of the newspaper profession in this section of the State, died late last night at his home, 703 King Street, following a lingering illiness at the age of seventy-seven years. He was the second son of Richard Libby and Cecelia Shakes Carne, both natives or Alexandria, and was born in Alexandria, D. C.. August 17, 1832, and resided here all of his life. The deceased entered the newspaper business when a boy, and served on the staff of the Alexandria Gazette and other Alexandria newspapers prior to the Civil War. For a short while prior to the war he also served on the staff of the New York Herald and the New York Sun. Afterward he became staff of the New York Herald and the New York Sun. Afterward he became identified with the staff of the Wash-ington Evening Star, and at the same time represented a number of South-ern newspapers in the press gallery of the House of Representatives. For several years he was associate editor of the National Republican and for thirty years was one of the Washing-ton correspondents of the Baltimore Sun.

SUFFOLK, VA. December 21.—The first victim of the toll to be collected in Suroik by pellagra was buried this atternoon—Mrs. Sarah E. Wals, widow of a police chief and mother of two policemen. Though Mrs. Wals has suffered with the maiady for eight weeks, the nature of her affliction was not known beyond professional circles until to-day. Dr. E. Roland Hart, her physician, said this evening that her symptoms were decidedly the most pronounced, being skin eruptions, irritation and soreness of mouth membranes, and in the later stage insanity. Asked for the probable cause, Dr. Hart could ascribe none except that Mrs. Wals had always been fond of cern products.

THOMAS.—At "Maplewood" Farm, in Henrico county, there occurred the death of a notable minister on the morning of December 20, REV, D. W. THOMAS, D. D.
Dr. Thomas, who has lived a quiet life upon his country place near Richmond for the past eight years, was a prominent minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church for a half century. In 1861 he and his devoted wife left New York for India, and after a voyage occupying five months around the Cape of Good Hope, by way of the Indian Ocean, they arrived at Calcutta January 17, 1862, At once he began his ploneer missionary work among these heathen people. During the course of his efforts in India Dr. Thomas founded the first theological and a normal school in India. This inatitution, of which he was president for many years, is situated at Barelly, and operates now upon an endowment bestowed from his private means and supplemented by additional subscriptions secured by him in America.

Dr. Thomas was for many years treasurer of the North India Mission, and in this capacity was largely instrumental in advancing the missionary field in that country. After twenty-seven years of consecration to this noble work, he was forced on account of impairment to his health and that of his wife, who served by his side in the mission-work, to retire from active service. For the past eight years he has lived quietly near Richmond with his wife and Mr. and Mir. Milam, his nephew and niece, at "Maplewood" heart disease, in the seventy-sight where he has in his large library occupied himself in literary pursuits and pleasures of social intercourse of an appreciated circle of friends.
